DOWNFALL AND DEATH.The Sad Story of a Maiden Who Was Betrayed.

National Associated Press to the Star.
CHICAGO, March 10.—The body of Emma Odell, a young woman of twenty-five, was found in the lake last evening. The mother, Mrs. Caroline Odell, yesterday began proceedings against one Anna O'Brien for abducting Emma, the supposition being that she was detained in some disreputable house. The O'Brien girl, having fled this morning, Mrs. Odell having fully identified the body of her daughter, and her death appearing to have been suicidal by drowning.

The case is a sad one, the family being well connected in Connecticut and New Jersey. Miss Odell had been rendered somewhat weak-minded by sunstroke received in New York, and about a year ago was seduced under promise of marriage by a young man named John Keys, now in St. Louis. A child was born, but died, and the misfortune of the young woman so preyed upon her mind that she went out while the family was at supper five weeks ago last Saturday evening and jumped into the lake. Her body was found 7 decomposed.

WASHINGTON.Our Own Tommy Talks Right Out in Meetin'.*President's Message on the Ute Transfer.

Special to the Star.
WASHINGTON, March 10.—Gov. Young today replied briefly to House's speech of yesterday, being brought up by the latter's attack on Minister Noyes for complicity in the so-called election frauds in Louisiana and Florida.

The Governor reviewed Noyes' career from boyhood, called him a patriotic citizen, a brave soldier, who was leading a Federal regiment, while House was doing all possible to dismember the Union; an able man, a good minister, maligned by a rebel Democracy.

The Governor also defended the administration which House had attacked bitterly. He is not in sympathy with the President's Civil Service Reform policy. However, the administration, if not brilliant, is respectable, which could not have been said of Tilden had he been elected.

He believes in the Jacksonian doctrine, "To the victors belong the spoils."

He repelled the attack on John Sherman, giving reasons for the hatred of that statesman evinced by the Ex-Confederates.

BEN. BUTTERWORTH WILL FOLLOW.

Tilden spends much of his time in his library. He maintains his practice of taking exercise on horseback, and a pleasant day hardly passes without Tilden's appearance on the avenues or in the Park. Receipts, $302,929.88; expenditures, $225,576.37; leaving a deficit July 1st, 1880, of $22,646.51.

In addition to this there is owing to the Sinking Fund $28,000, and on the 1st of August $2,800 more, or $56,000 in all, and with the above deficit, will make $78,646.51. He urged the necessity of dispensing with all surplus employees and stopping all work not absolutely required.

The Committee on Water Works recommended that the proposition of W. H. Brown & Co., be declined, and that proper advertisement be made of proposals for adequate supply of coal required for the Front-street and Hunt-street Pumping-house. The recommendation was approved. Permission was granted the proprietor of the St. James Hotel to lay a cissing from the hotel to the car-track.

At the meeting of the Board this afternoon the appointments made by the Engineer were confirmed.

THE ATTEMPTED INFANTICIDE.Miss Adams Arrested at Lima, Ohio—Mr. Perry Innocent.

Yesterday's STAR contained the account of the finding of a new-born babe in the rear of Hunt's Hotel and the arrest of Hon. J. W. Perry, of the Kentucky Legislature on suspicion of knowing something about the child.

Miss Eliza J. Adams, the mother of the child, was arrested last night at Lima, Ohio, and placed in jail at that place. She is very weak, and the doctors have ordered her not to be disturbed for several days. She makes a clean breast of everything, and says that Mr. Perry is entirely innocent, that he simply brought her to Cincinnati, and was not aware of her condition.

She refuses to give the name of her seducer, but says it was a young man who went to school with her at Van Wert, O. When told that the child was still alive, she would not believe it. She said it was stillborn.

Mr. Perry will undoubtedly be exonerated from all blame in the matter. It seems he did not know the exact condition of the girl. He says when he left her night before last she complained of feeling unwell, and that when he left the hotel with her yesterday morning she spoke of being stiff. He noticed that she was very pale, but never suspected her true condition.

Inspector Wapenstein left for Lima last night, and as soon as Miss Adams is sufficiently recovered he will bring her to Cincinnati.

The child is still alive and doing well.

This afternoon Officer Joe Smith filed an affidavit against J. W. Perry, charging him with assault and battery.

Mr. Perry's name was registered upon the slate at the Ninth-street Station-house, although he was not locked up. The charge was placed against him simply for the purpose of allowing him to give bail or his appearance and thus release him from custody.

It is thought that Mr. P. will procure bail by this evening when he will return home. The child is doing remarkably well at the Hospital, and has been christened "Joe Smith," in honor of the man who first took charge of the little unfortunate.

It is hardly probable that Inspector Wapenstein will return from Lima with Miss Adams for two or three days, as her condition at present is such that she can not travel.

A dispatch was received late this afternoon from Lima, Ohio, to the effect that Miss Adams had not thrown her baby out of the window. She says she lowered it by a string or cord.

The Frey-Jauch murder case was resumed to-day before Judge Moore. The argumentation is in progress.

The case of ex-Governor Bishop against the Gazette for libel, was called up in the Superior Court before Judge Force to-day. Motions were made to strike out certain allegations in the answer, namely that the words were not malicious or de-lamatory, and that they did not imply personal corruption on the part of the Governor. The first motion was granted and the second refused.

John Reeder is locked up in the County Jail on a charge of bastardy preferred against him by a young girl named Carrie Meyers, who had him arraigned the other day before Squire Harneyer. To-day Reeder took out a license to marry the girl, and as soon as his case is heard next Friday he will be well so and get himself out of prison.

Officer Joe Smith this morning found a woman named Mrs. Virginia Thomas in the tenement house No. 169 Mound street in a very feeble condition. Herself and two little children were suffering from destitution and want. Joe had the poor woman removed to the Hospital and the children to the Children's Home.
